Andrew Anderson, Deputy Principal’s Report:

Aboriginal Education Programs

Jessie Simon-Fitzpatrick and Sharnee Dingwall, Year 9 participated in a week-long Production Skills Work Experience at Sydney Opera House at the end of Term 1 as part of a NSW Aboriginal Arts and Cultural Strategy to increase the participation of young Aboriginal people in the Performing Arts. The work experience program taught both students about the processes that are involved in staging productions at the Sydney Opera House during the week when it presented Thea and the Lion. Jessie and Sharnee were two of a very small number of select students chosen from Sydney schools to participate in the program. Both girls had a fantastic time during their week of work experience and did the school proud as two wonderful ambassadors of a school strongly committed to the Performing Arts. A report written by Jessie is on page 23.

Marie Ikonomou and Aaliyah Bradbury participated in an Aboriginal Dance Workshop at Woollomooloo PCYC on Thursday 10 April led by Bangarra Dance Theatre, Australia’s leading Indigenous performing arts organisation. Both Marie and Aaliyah had a fantastic time and will be participating in other dance initiatives as a result of their participation in the day.

Ms McLelland has been working with most of the school’s Aboriginal Students in the Aboriginal Students Support Program. This program will continue in Term 2 to ensure our wonderful Aboriginal students are supported to achieve their personal best at school.

2014 School Evaluations

The School is required by the Department of Education and Communities each year to undertake Curriculum Evaluations in order to promote continuous improvement in teaching and learning. Curriculum Evaluations for 2014 will focus on the TAS and HSIE faculties. I would like to thank Cheryl Wardrop (TAS HT, Picnic Point HS), Jo Hunter (Staff) and Annisa Suprianto (Year 11) who will join me on the TAS Evaluation Team, and Kathie Burgess, Sharon Smith (Parent), and Katie Chung (Year 11) who will join me on the HSIE Evaluation team.

In both evaluations we will be seeking to identify the many wonderful practices currently being utilised in Stage 5 and 6 and ways for building on these practices, and we will be speaking to many students and staff to gain their views. Surveys will also be given to parents of Stage 5 and Stage 6 students, so if your daughter brings one of these surveys home, please complete it and have her return it to me. Parent input is hugely important to any evaluation we undertake! Evaluation findings will be reported on in a future Newsletter.

Personal Learning Plans

Slow but steady progress on the development of Personal Learning Plans is taking place. All Year 7 students should by now have a Personal Learning Plan as an adobe file which is stored in a Digital Portfolio in the ‘My Documents’ section of their student desktop. These still need to be uploaded onto the School’s Moodle Site. In the interim, I would encourage all parents and caregivers to talk with their daughter about their Personal Learning Plan and to think about examples of work which they could keep in their Digital Portfolio to represent the progress in learning they are making at high school.

I would like to thank Ms McLelland, Mr Smith, Ms Felsch and The English Faculty for the work they have undertaken with the development of Personal Learning Plans with Year 7 this year.

Subject Selection

Subject Selection Booklets for Years 8 and 10 will be available on the School’s website within the next 3 weeks. In addition, students will also be given hard copies of these documents to take home and discuss with their families. Please take this opportunity to engage with your daughter regarding the issue of subject selection, and work with her to complete her Subject Selection Form when this is issued to her in a few weeks’ time. Year 7 will be issued with a letter shortly regarding Subject Selection rather than a booklet. Each year, a small number of students become rather anxious over the issue of subject selections, and I would ask parents to contact me should this occur in 2014.

Reminders regarding ongoing issues

I just wanted to remind parents that the following remain ongoing issues that I greatly value home support with:

- Safety: continually reminding your daughter of the need to be aware of safety issues at all times, especially whilst travelling to and from school; having your daughter travel in a group where possible, sticking to main roads when walking, and reporting any safety concerns as a matter of urgency. If a student is approached by someone in a car, that she not engage with the driver but keep walking and report the driver if concerned.

- Values: encouraging your daughter to leave all valuables (phone, iPad, money, musical instruments) at home whenever possible, and reminding her to keep any valuables she must bring to school on her person at all times. The increase in the number of students with laptops means that all students must take responsibility for their device and not leave it unattended. As in the ‘real world’, valuables are unlikely to be recovered if they are left unattended.

- Uniform: ensuring girls are attired in full school uniform every day of the week; in particular supporting girls to wear black leather shoes on normal school days and proper sports shoes on Wednesdays, and prohibiting the wearing of tights without a covering skirt or shorts under any circumstances. With the cooler weather, I would ask that girls not use multi-colour jumpers and jackets but adhere to approved winter uniform.

- Lateness: supporting girls to arrive at school between 8.25am and 8.35am, and leaving adequate time for travel and breakfast; perpetual lateness quickly erodes learning time and prevents girls from achieving their personal best at school.

- Diaries: checking that diaries are being properly used, that homework is being recorded and monitored and that the terrific information regarding effective study contained in the diaries is being accessed.

- Communication: informing the school of any absences; encouraging your daughter to report illness or any other issues requiring early leaving from school to Office A for follow up with parents, rather than contacting parents directly.

- Social media: limiting the amount of time girls are accessing social media; monitoring the appropriate use of social media such as Facebook and Ask. fm, having regular discussions about safe and responsible use of media, and following up any illegal behaviours with the police.

Please contact me by email on andrew.anderson@det.nsw.edu.au or by telephone on 9718 1805 should you wish to discuss any of the aforementioned issues. I greatly enjoy the opportunity to collaborate with families in ensuring each student at our school achieves her personal best!

Andrew Anderson, Deputy Principal
Enriching Extra Curricular Events

Term 1 ended on a high note with many activities across the curriculum providing opportunities for rich and real learning, and the opening weeks of Term 2 have been similarly busy. Events such as Egg Day in Science, HSIE Australian Geography Competition, English Poetry Show, Sport Cross Country Carnival and VET work placements were but a handful of the end of term activities.

World’s Greatest Shave (above) was a celebratory affair demonstrating the depth of school spirit in the Canterbury Girls HS student community, and outstanding leadership from Prefects and SRC. Peer Numeracy Tutoring and the White Ribbon Anti-Violence initiative are two important strategies which continue during DEAR times in Term 2, again displaying fine commitment from our students and willingness to give in the school community.

The LEAPS mentoring program for Year 9 students, and the Term 2 Parent-Daughter program are further student well being events on the calendar. The LEAPS introductory evening was held on April 30th, ably coordinated by Ms Naisbett. Our school is now marking over a decade of participation in this important and effective workplace mentoring program, Lawyers Encouraging and Assisting Promising Students.

Year 9 History students (below) did a superb job to commemorate Anzac Day in a special assembly on May 5th. It combined the traditional focus of Anzac on Gallipoli and World War 1 alongside contemporary perspectives of war experiences. This was the first of our Monday assemblies for Term 2 and was a wonderful example of student centred presentation.

Week of Well Being ran for Years 11 and 12 in week 2 of this term with study skills, drama performances, guest speakers and workshops over the week. Ms Burgess in the relieving Head Teacher Student Well Being role has worked hard to ensure a great program across the week for our seniors, including much of value in study, motivation, and planning for the future. Years 7-10 WOW takes place in Term 3. This year’s WOW focus is “It’s all about your attitude”, a theme echoed in the presentation by the special guest speaker Justin Herald for Years 10 – 12 on May 7. The power of ‘attitude’ will also be the centrepiece of the Motivational Media presentation in August.

Clinic Procedures: when you are sick at school

When a student becomes unwell at school she should report to the office, who will assess her and contact the family. If your daughter calls or texts you to say she is sick, please tell her to report to the office. If you come to the school to collect your daughter because she is sick, please be absolutely sure the office knows she has departed with you, and has signed her out.

Ms Ronayne, Acting Deputy Principal’s Report:

Safety in the Community and our school profile

I would like to echo Mr Anderson’s comments about safety. As the Deputy monitoring attendance, I see first hand the potential dangers leaving school premises without following school procedures. Please encourage your daughter to maintain the high standards set by the vast majority of the school community regarding punctuality, regular attendance and wearing school uniform. Not only does adhering to school procedures project a positive image in the wider community, it also enhances student safety. Students who are where they should be when they should be, and are able to be identified as our students, are safe. Travelling to and from school is a time when both image and safety are important – parents, please continue to remind your daughters about appropriate and safe behaviour on the way to and from school.

Please note an important point about uniform - THE COLOUR FOR WINTER JUMPERS IS BLUE – vests/cardigans/undershirts may be grey, blue or black. See Mr Anderson’s other points about uniform requirements, especially our expectation that girls wear shorts or skirts over tights and leggings.

Year 12 Hospitality

The girls have been making a variety of dishes to demonstrate their ability in using a variety of cooking methods. Working in teams or individually they have shown creativity in the presentation of their dishes.

The Canterbury Girls
World’s Greatest Shave

The SRC collaborated with the Prefects to assist in the success that was the World’s Greatest Shave on the 28th of March, 2014. Fifteen girls each donated over twenty centimetres of their locks to be made into wigs for cancer patients, whilst 4 girls were brave enough to shave their hair. The brave shavers were May Miles, Maria Phan, Michaelie Trenbath and Lanu Waterson. The event attracted hundreds of Cantabrians to the MPC who joined the festivities.

On offer was the chance to have your hair braided or to colour a teacher’s hair which was auctioned off! The canteen helped out by holding a sausage sizzle, with proceeds going towards the cause. The event was so successful it even drew media attention from the local newspaper Canterbury-Bankstown Express and The Daily Telegraph. A special thank you to Ly Lien and Ms Moodie for organisation of the day and their dedication to the World’s Greatest Shave.

Claire Badart-Prentice and Scout Eastment

Peer Numeracy

A new initiative, called Peer Numeracy, was instigated by Canterbury Girls’ High School this term. It was designed with the aim of improving students’ Numeracy skills from Years 7 to 9.

During DEAR, thirteen Year 10 students from 10M1 work with students on a one to one basis, with Ms Gifford as Co-ordinator. Part of Term 1 was spent training the tutors with an emphasis on utilising Newman’s Prompts, a series of questions which aid reading and comprehension. The students identified as needing support, with their tutor to assist them, work through a booklet which introduces Numeracy skills across the Key Learning Areas. These are skills which are encountered on a daily basis in real life situations. Year 8 girls have just started the programme and later in the year, students from Years 9 and 7 will participate.

It is a learning experience for both student and tutor and one which I am sure will be beneficial.

Marion Gifford

WOW special guest speaker Justin Herald

Years 10, 11 and 12 heard an enlightening and inspiring talk from Justin Herald as part of their Week of Well Being May 5-9. Justin spoke about the need to truly enjoy your life’s work and to know and project your true personality into the way you portray yourself. As a ‘troubled’ young person (who does not have their fair share of troubles?), Justin entertainingly showed how with motivation and determination he found a rewarding path to follow.

Year 9 Photography and Digital Media images

These images were taken by Madeleine Smith in Year 9. The images were taken as part of the Photography Digital Media course for the Term 1 Task. The images were inspired by an artist called Slinkachu and the works the students created were street art installations.

Cybersmart Chatterbox Episode 3

Trolling, Tagging and Bagging

As a key education partner of the Australian Communications and Media Authority’s (ACMA) Cybersmart program, we would like to update you on our new initiative to support teachers and parents in their journey to help children stay safe online.

Cybersmart has developed Chatterbox, an online platform that allows parents to ‘tune’ in to a series of short videos and conversations by Cybersmart experts on a wide variety of cybersafety topics and to ask questions.

Each video and conversation, released monthly, addresses the specific issues, behaviours and safety essentials to help parents make sense of what’s happening in their child’s online world.

So that all parents can make the most out of this resource, they are encouraged to ask the Cybersmart experts questions and share their stories with fellow parents via our online discussion forums. The next Chatterbox episode is available now and we would encourage your staff and school parents to tune into our Chatterbox series and participate in the online forum so that stories and experiences can be shared.

You can listen to the Chatterbox program online, ask a question and/or join in the conversation on our Facebook page.

Watch the trailer by clicking the video below and don’t forget to leave a comment.

Dance excursion at Sydney Opera House

Dance elective students from Years 9 and 10 went on an excursion to the Sydney Opera House on May 14 to see The Australian Ballet’s Introduction program.

Firstly they witnessed a typical company warm-up. “It started with a basic technique exercise with plies and tendus. Each time they danced the exercise, it developed in speed and difficulty. They continued with an adage exercise, which displayed an advanced ability in controlling their movements through their centre. Throughout the group of dancers, it was interesting to observe the subtle ranges of ability. The dancers also did turning and jeté exercises, impressing with their spectacular ability to changement and souperso, clearing the ground at extraordinary heights. While the strength was extremely impressive in the men’s dancing, the women were extraordinarily good in being soft in their movements, and making beautiful lines with their arms, legs and feet. I was quite surprised to see the ballet master regularly dish out corrections to the dancers, who all listened intently and consistently applied the corrections. Some of the corrections included simple things such as turning out in their jumps, and spotting in their turns. The ballet master explained that the dancers did this every day of the week. My favourite part was watching and counting one of the dancers do fifty fouettes en pointe.

Overall, the class was a great opportunity to get an insight on the work and training of a ballerina in The Australian Ballet Company.” Billie Col-Aylie

Afterwards, the company performed one of the great showpiece ballets of their international repertory, “Suite en Blanc”. This work was originally created for the Paris Opera Ballet in the 1940s by Serge Lifar. It was first presented by The Australian Ballet in 1981 and is renowned for its dazzling and difficult display of classical technique, remaining a favourite in the company’s repertoire.

When asked about the concept/intent of the work, Ruby Tonge from Year 10 shared the following explanation:

“Suite en Blanc” is a performance with no fixed story line; it is a ballet that shows the athleticism and strong technique that dancers work so hard in class to achieve.”

Some incentive to work hard in class for the girls.... A perfect day, thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Ms Reed

MAY 2014
2014 Egg Day

What an eggs-traordinary way to finish the term! On 27th March, Year 7 participated in the annual Canterbury Girls High School Egg day. Egg day is an idea hatched by the Science Faculty some years ago and is a rich task designed for all Year 7 students to egg-samine scientific principles whilst doing fun egg based activities. Students were eggs-tremely egg-static to break out of their shell and be involved in such an egg-spiring day and participated egg-thusiastically in egg-tivities called egg mobile, dare devil egg, egg catch and blow egg. Year 7 used their egg-treme imagination, ingenuity and high order thinking skills to complete the egg-speriments. Yolks aside, by the end of the day their brains were fried by the overload of egg-speriments and they scrambled home egg-husted.

Students were also given the opportunity to participate in an egg decorating contest. There were a huge number of entries and the egg-springing creativity, humour and skill displayed in the entries was eggs-traordinary.

The day was an egg-straordinary success, with students learning a lot in an egg-tertaining and challenging environment. I don’t want to egg-saggerate but the Science staff are super-eggs and provided eggs-traordinary and valued guidance throughout the entire day and should be congratulated on their egg-ceedingly egg-cellent efforts to make Egg day such an egg-citing and egg-joyable day for all. Thankyou to Ms Delmas, Ms Dichiara, Mr Free, Ms Jones, Ms Samsa and Ms Yasmin. Ms Yasmin deserves special mention, as without her egg-cellent planning and preparation, the day would not have been a successful and egg-tertaining egg-vent.

Clothing Drive

The Prefects are holding a clothing drive to collect clothes for a 2nd hand fashion market to be held during lunchtime on Thursday, 29th May. Good condition clothing with no holes, stains or tears can be brought to school on Tuesday, Thursday or Friday to be collected by the Prefects during Dear.

Senior Theatresports

CGHS’ Senior Theatresports team went into action on Monday 3rd March 2014 as they took part in a ‘Theatresports’ workshop. This was prior to their participation in the preliminary round of this year’s School Challenge. Our talented team included our year eleven students Elishia Maher, Amy Goodwin, Alyssa Graf and Imogen Smith. Though initially full of nervousness, the girls soon got into their stride and delighted Graf and Imogen Smith. Though initially full of nervousness, the CGHS team had covered themselves with glory by coming third in the competition. The team now has to other regions to see if they qualify for the quarter finals of the Theatresports Schools’ Challenge.

Back at Baalbek Bakery: a local excursion for Year 7 Arabic classes! ♦ See page 27 for information and recipes from the bakery

Who thought watching bread baking could be so fun? Visiting our local Arabic baker was as wonderful as visiting Charlie’s chocolate factory except without the sweet tooth!

Apart from the excitement of watching small masses of dough whizzing and expanding on a conveyor belt above our heads with exciting noises that you would only expect to hear in Charlie’s Chocolate factory, we also were taught about the history and significance of Arabic bread making, including tips for making perfect Arabic bread. We were given an opportunity to taste fresh pita bread straight off a conveyor belt and were given cafe style postcards with recipes and historical facts on the back for free! The Director and Baker was also a great presenter, whom the girls easily built rapport with. Thank you Dominic Moawad!

Opera House Work Experience

During the end of Term 1, Indigenous students across the Sydney region were given the opportunity to spend a week at The Sydney Opera House as part of their work experience scheme. I saw it as a great opportunity to learn all the details about one of Australia’s greatest icons.

When one is placed for work experience at the Sydney Opera House you’d generally expect it to be top standard, suits and ties, high tech and extremely tense. As a matter of fact the only thing that was to my expectation was the House’s highly advanced technological equipment and staff. From our first introductions we felt welcome, included and once you knew your way around, completely at ease.

There wasn’t a single job we didn’t have an experience doing i.e. stage management, security, front of house, ticket box, tours, lighting and sound, as well as many more. Within the first two days everyone knew all the House’s shortcuts, secret passages, hidden doors and all ways to get from a to b. It was a great week, one I don’t think I’ll ever forget.

Canterbury Girls move to online diary in 2015

A reminder to all families to encourage the use of the CGHS online version of our school diary. All Years have now had a visit from the friendly Learning Curve staff Melissa and Samantha, so all students should have logged in and learned about how to use the planner online. By the start of next term staff will have the opportunity to use the diary online too; and for 2015 we plan to be not only paperless but also to be able to communicate with parents about homework in this online application. The website for Learning Curve is accessible from all types of devices. The instructions to access are below.

Student Diary online for students

https://lcplanner.com

Please go to the Learning Curve site using the link above. For the first login, everyone’s password is: password. Then you can reset your own password. Log in using your school network username, followed by @canterburygirls, like the example below:

firstname.lastname@canterburygirls

(if you have any numbers in your dec username, they should be included, eg: cathy.nguyen16@canterburygirls)

This resource enables access to an impressive array of study and well being skills, as well as the online diary and calendar to manage time and priorities with homework, tests, exams and assessments.

Log on and start playing, soon your teachers will be able to post your homework into your calendar; and next we plan for families to have access as well, so you can be supported to be organized in your study!

1. Refer to the Index to gain an idea of what is in the Student Planner. Read Using the Learning Curve - the Best Way and Checklists to learn about the structured approach for daily, weekly, monthly, term and semester strategies to build well being.

Too sick for school?

As the cold weather hits, so do the winter bugs. It’s often hard to know whether to send your child to school or let them stay home to recover, especially when that means an adult cancelling work. For safety’s sake, if your child seems unwell you should always keep them home from school and seek medical advice.

School A to Z and the NSW Health have created an at-a-glance chart to help answer your questions about common childhood illness and how long sick kids need to miss school. Find it by typing this link into your web browser www.bit.ly/1hyt2E

Teenagers seeking more independence

Knowing how much freedom and responsibility to give your teenager is difficult, especially if they’re your eldest or only child. To become capable adults, teenagers need to learn to make good decisions on their own and have opportunities to show you they can.

The Raising Children Network website has a wealth of expert information and guidance for parents of teenagers and younger children. If your child is testing the boundaries and pushing for more independence, you may find the article ‘Shifting responsibility to your child’ worth reading. Go to www.bit.ly/1JcxKhe

Study help for high school

It’s often quite difficult parents to assist their children with their high school homework and study. Even if we have professional experience in the subject area, children tend to find it difficult to take parental advice when it comes to school. (Don’t feel bad, teachers’ own children do exactly the same thing.)

www.khanacademy.org is an excellent, not-for-profit website which may help your child study and revise tricky concepts in science, maths and the humanities.

REMINDS for families

Please ensure that if your address or phone number has been changed the school administration is informed. A Change of Contact Details Form can be collected from Office A.

Excursions: The school is more than happy for students to pay overnight excursions off across the year as long as a $50 deposit is paid prior to departure. One day excursions must be paid in full before departure.

Newsletter by email: All families will receive an SMS when the newsletter is available on the webpage. This comes out each month and issue dates are on the calendar on the website. The newsletter is emailed to all students as well. If you wish to have a hard copy your daughter must collect this from Office A.

School Calendar: Please check the student calendar on the school website for excursion dates, upcoming events, and rehearsal times:

Scope and Sequence for All Subjects for Years 7-10 is now available on the website.

Since taking over ownership of Baalbek Bakery Canterbury in 2005, we have sought to preserve the excellent product handed down to us from our family and continually seek to modernise our processes so that this wonderful, ancient bread continues to shine at its best. Our passion for producing the finest Lebanese bread - at a price that defies inflation - will be reflected in your love and enjoyment of it.

Fried Bread with Cinnamon Sugar

Lauren Murdoch is a renowned Sydney chef (ex Lotus and Felix).

Here is her twist on the use of our Lebanese bread:

- 250g or 1 cup castor sugar
- 1/2 tsp ground ginger
- 1/2 tsp ground cinnamon

MIX ingredients above.

TEAR Lebanese bread into strips.

FRY (or if absolutely necessary and with a big:-(), bake) until lightly golden and crispy. Remove bread and toss when warm into sugar mix.

SERVE WITH Sweetened Cream, berries (strawberries are great), chocolate mousse, or all three!!!

Watermelon and Marinated Feta Salad with Sherry Vinaigrette

- 1kg watermelon, cut into 2cm cubes
- 200g marinated feta, goat or cow
- 1 small Spanish onion
- 1/4 tsp ground coriander seeds
- 1/2 bunch of mint, picked and washed, roughly chopped
- 100g baby rocket leaves

SHERRY VINAIGRETTE

- 2 golden shallots, finely diced
- 60mls sherry vinegar
- 1/2 tsp brown sugar
- 1/2 tsp salt
- 120mls extra virgin olive oil

FOR THE DRESSING mix the shallots with the vinegar, salt and sugar. Allow to sit for 10 minutes then whisk in olive oil.

SLICE the onion very finely & mix with the coriander seeds.

TO SERVE arrange the rocket on a plate or bowl first with half the mint and some of the onion. Place the watermelon cubes on next, then the rest of the onion and mint. Drizzle the dressing over the top and toss the salad at the table.

This is also nice with the addition of toasted Lebanese bread, toasted pine nuts or almond flakes.
