

Surviving school exams and stress

For young people > Work & study > Surviving school exams and stress

To help reduce stress and ensure that you're as organised as you can be, learn more about planning and looking after yourself and about staying focused in order to be as ready for the exam as you can be.

Take the time to plan

- Prepare a study plan and goals for each day / week. Make sure it's balanced with other important things in your life - that way it will be easier to stick to.
- Talk to your employers early to let them know you need to limit your shifts / hours while studying.
- Create a study space that is comfortable, quiet, well lit, organised, and has no distractions nearby, such as a TV, phone, people talking, etc.
- Make sure you have everything you need for each study session as this helps to feel more confident and organised.

Look after yourself

- Self care is especially important when you have a big demand in your life - that way you have the energy to commit to what you need to accomplish.
- Build activities you enjoy and that bring your stress levels down into your study plan, such as sport, spending time with friends, internet, etc.
- Don't get hungry before or while studying. Grab nutritional snacks that keep you going, such as fruit/nuts/dairy, etc.
- Remember to get some exercise every day as this helps you to keep focused and energetic.

Rest when you need to

- Work out what times of day you have the most energy and plan to study then.
- Don't study more than 40-60 mins without a short break. Even a 5 minute break will help. A glass of water helps too!
- When you have a break do something physical or fun, such as go for a short run or play with a pet.
- Try to keep your focus on school and exams rather than other stuff happening in your life; you don't need this extra worry around relationships, friendships etc. right now.

Stay focused

- Say "no" to parties during the weeks close to the exams. This will help to keep you refreshed and energised.
- When studying, switch your phone and email off to stop the distractions.
- Try to keep a focus on your health and wellbeing by not using things like drugs or alcohol; they can make it much harder to study.

Ask for help:

- Stay at school until your last day so you don't miss any important info about exams, or fun events with your colleagues.
- Practice writing essays and show your teachers for feedback for improvement.
- Ask teachers the best way to study for each subject; they have many years experience they can share with you.
- Some teachers are happy to be contacted during the time leading up to the exams. Find out which ones you can contact and make use of this if you need to.
- If you have trouble approaching your own teacher for advice, talk to one of the other ones who teach the same subject.
- Group study sessions with classmates can be a helpful and entertaining way of studying, but keep your focus on what you want to achieve with these sessions.
- Talk about what you are studying with family members and friends as this helps to retain the info more, especially names and dates, etc.

Be prepared

- Read/ write everything three times as this also helps to commit the info to memory.
- Use your trial exam results to focus in on what you need study.

- Write things in coloured texta that you have trouble remembering (such as names and dates) and blu-tak to your toilet wall/door. Sounds funny, but it really works!

Day of the exam

- Do your usual routine, for example, have what you normally eat for breakfast.
- Take some water and a healthy snack (if allowed) to the exam.

And finally...

If the stress is getting to you it will prevent you from studying effectively and confidently - so ask for help from headspace, a counsellor, professional, or help line.

Other Website Resources

thedesk - aims to support Australian tertiary students to achieve mental and physical health and wellbeing. thedesk online resources will help people improve their wellbeing and be able to study more effectively. thedesk offers free access to online modules, tools, quizzes and advice.

University of the Sunshine Coast - Academic and study supports – successful learning strategies to get the most out of tertiary studies

Macqueries University Study Tips

Open Colleges - 10 study smart strategies

The Royal Children's Hospital - Studying with a chronic health condition /disability

Australian Disability Clearing House on Education and Training - Studying with disability - Autism

Tips to Keep Good Mental Health

Good mental health and wellbeing allows you to live your life in a positive and meaningful way and cope with life's changes and challenges.

Student services

Generally, most training institutions such as universities and TAFE's provide a range of services and supports to help students meet the demands of daily life while studying, so they will continue to thrive and be successful in completing their courses.

Get professional support

If you feel you need help there are a range of ways we can support you.

Visit a headspace Centre